FINDING MAGIC

Something has caught your attention. Time stands still and you find yourself experiencing the moment fully. These moments happen many times in a day, a week, a year.

What is it that ties these micro-experiences together? Why do some things have the power to stop you in your tracks, call you to look at them more carefully? What here is special?

Through this series of paintings, Julie explores the thread that ties all these captured moments together. Snapshots of feelings; a dancing of colours; the contrast of light.

This is where nature and humans meet.

This is finding magic.
